Hello Mort!

Im very sorry for the late replay,as your message was in spam mail and didnt check so far.

Would be great to taste my olive oil and i must tell you that the olive flies touched only a 1-2% of the trees and this probably because the rain and hard air removed the traps of these trees.I will also need your product for the next seasons.

Regarding my olive oil,i havent collect it yet,as im waiting to get the olive fruit bigger,cause of less raining this summer.Hopefully next week will start collecting and will inform you when will be ready for sending it to you.If i send the glass bottles,would be heavier than pet bottles and also shipping companies need it packed with wooden box.From one side,i want you to see the whole olive image "bottle and olive oil" and if possible to promote it there,but this way will go higher shipping.I will check with this and let you know my friend as soon as i have the oil.

Cheers,
Vasilis

Thanks Vasilis,

By now you should have olive fly lure test results. Did my lures protect your olives from olive fly damage? Did my med fly lure protect your other crops?

I want to buy 8 to 16 oz olive oil from your groves protected by my olive fly lures for me to lab test for zero or non-detectable insect pheromone level. I am happy to pay freight. Greek postal service is probably the least expensive freight. Please let me know cost for me to Paypal you the money.
